ANTIMASONIC DEMOCRAT.

I. P. WHEELER, PUBLISHER.

TO SPOILS.

EPHRAIM MAXHAM, EDITOR.

VOLUME II.

MIDDLEBURY, SEPT ABER 12, 1837.

NUMBER 18.

num, if paid within the year-$2,50 payable after the close of the volume

A liberal deduction made to Companies. No paper discontinued till all arrearages are paid, unless at the option of the publisher. Advertisements conspicuously inserted unless accompanied by directions.

THE PEOPLE'S PRESS.

MIDDLEBURY ...... FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1837.

MESSAGE

From the President of the United States to the two Houses of Congress, at the commencement of the first session of the 25th Congress.

FELLOW-CITIZENS OF THE SENATE, AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:

made it at the same time impracticable to em- states and state institutions, and above all, by ploy the requisite number of others, upon the the lavish accommodations extended by forprescribed conditions. The specific regula- eign dealers to our merchants. tions established by Congress for the deposite The consequences of this redundancy of out the objects which call for your im-ence upon their bonds for duties; and all the and finally, without enumerating other injuri-vice before the regular period of your meeting; our specie. the earliest moment, your full constitutional heretofore have been to assign to these causes it has been said to possess, under its present large portion of them combining great intelliam sure that I have done but justice to your dispel all remaining doubts upon the subject .- same effects, a national bank, possessing pow- this purpose, and they are disinclined to every rendering your meeting conducive to the good Great Britain, on the continent, and indeed also proved unable to prevent an undue expan- the other hand, a majority of the people are beversified, and the influences which affect them mount of banking capital, and the issues of pa- Although advantages of this sort were antici- to which the commercial transactions of the so numerous, and often so subtle, that even im. per credits put in circulation in Great Britain, pated when the first Bank of the United States country have lately been exposed.—Banking covery of the truth. It was bardly to be ex. States. pected that those who disapproved the policy of the government in relation to the currency, there was also a spirit of adventurous specula- among its first duties; and an omission to aid conflicts of party; opinions were more or less chants in foreign countries; and all the means tend its control to subjects with which it should affected by political considerations, and differ- of acquiring and employing credit were put in not interfere. They can never justify the creaences were prolonged which migh' otherwise active operation, and extended in their effects tion of an institution to promote such objects. have been determined by an appeal to facts, by to every department of business, and to every On the contrary, they justly excite among the States, including that of the national bank then tress. In both countries we have The act of the 23d of June 1836, regulating existing, amounted to about two hundred mill- the same redundancy of paper money, the deposites of the public money, and direct- ions of dollars; the bank notes then in circula- er facilities of credit; the same spirit of ing the employment of state, district and territorial banks for that purpose, made it the duty and discounts of the banks to three hundred difficulties and reverses, and, at length, of the Secretary of the Treasury to discontin- and twenty four millions. Between that time the same overwhelming catastrophe, ue the use of such of them as should at any and the first of January, 1833, being the last most material difference between the res time refuse to redeem their notes in specie, and period to which accurate accounts have been the two countries has only been, that w to substitute other banks, provided a sufficient number could be obtained to receive the public more than two hundred and fifty-one millions; ment in the fiscal affairs of the Feders deposites upon the terms and conditions therein our paper circulation to more than one hun. State Governments, occasioned by the prescribed. The general and almost simultandered and forty millions, and the loans and dission of specie payments by the banks. cous suspension of specie payments by the counts to more than four hundred and fifty-sevbanks in May last, rendered the performance en millions. To this vast increase are to be Great Britain and the United States, is s of this duty imperative, in respect to those added the many millions of credit, acquired by which had been selected under the act, and means of foreign loans, contracted by the commercial countries.

and safe keeping of the public monies, having credit, and of the spirit of reckless speculation attention. thus unexpectedly become inoperative, I felt it engendered by it, were a foreign debt contractto be my duty to afford you an early opportuni- ed by our citizens, estimated in March last at ty for the exercise of your supervisory powers more than thirty millions of dollars; the extension to traders in the interior of our country of and paid by the Government; to enal thority to call upon the states for a portion of been greatly disproportionate to their real val-tual suspension of specie payments, for indulg- increased to more than two millions of dollars; porations.

the matter might be submitted to your further things could long continue, that the prospect reason that they should be, changed. Questions were also expected to arise in the siderate men before it actually came. None, ter, have heretofore frequently occurred, with- the aid of legislative grants or regulations by passed away. We have no emergencies that ty of the government, with millions on depos- the time, because postponed for a season by rect them both, being principally guided by the stitution, have in the end proved injurious, and ite, to meet its engagements in the manner thus the great facilities of credit then existing; the same views, and influenced by the same mo- have served only to convince the great body of required by law, was rendered doubtful by the disturbing effects in our commercial cities, of tives, will be equally ready to stimulate extra- the people, more and more, of the certain danthe transfers of the public moneys required by vagance of enterprise by improvidence of gers of blending private interests with the unexpected exigencies could only be made by ures adopted by the foreign creditors of our tained by experience. Congress; convinced that some of them would merchants to reduce their debts, and to with- The Bank of the United States, with the would be more successful. be indispensably necessary to the public ser- draw from the United States a large portion of vast power conferred on it by Congress, did not

TERMS.
To mail and village subscribers, $2,00 per and unity if paid within the year—$2,50 payable after the close of the volume.

Terms:

To mail and village subscribers, $2,00 per and circumstances of this nature cannot prevent a community so intelligent as ours from ultimately arriving at correct conclusions: encour-aged by the firm belief of this truth, I proceed debtors in this country were not suddenly de-

The history of these causes and eff

The present and visible effects of the cumstances on the operations effice C ment, and on the industry of the peop

They are to regulate by law the state ng, transfer, and disbursement, of the moneys; to designate the funds to be re I was also led to apprehend that the suspen- credits for supplies greatly beyond the wants of Treasury to meet promptly every demand upon rassments before existing in the pecuniary af- half millions of dollars in unproductive public the mode of settlement to be adopted, as well in fairs of the country, would so far diminish the lands, in the years 1835 and 36, whilst in the collecting from individuals the revenue that has hensions have been justified by subsequent re- sion to other pursuits of much of the labor that been heretofore employed; but, although adsults, which render it certain that this deficien should have been applied to agriculture, there- vocates of each system are still to be found, it cy will occur, if additional means be not provid- by contributing to the expenditure of large is apparent that the events of the last few

The accommodation is now, indeed, after the pected. With this redundancy of the paper currency lapse of not many years, demanded from it as

The various transactions which bear the the last three or four years, affords the most convincing evidence that our present condition is chiefly to be attributed to over action in all the departments of business; an over-action de- Two nations the most commercial in the world, up of bills of exchange, not drawn to transfer riving, perhaps, its first impulse from anteceded to its destructive deat causes, but stimulated to its destructive apparent prosperity, and maintaining with each consequences by excessive issues of bank papers of consequences by excessive issues of bank papers of the closest relations.

Two manufacture is the most continued of the content of the co enlargement of credit. At the commencement of the year 1834, the banking capital of the U. States including the reference of the state of embarrassment and disaster, are sted in their carper, and plunged into a state of embarrassment and disaster. nessed These bills have formed, for the last few years, first bank of the United States; and secondly, in d oth- a large proportion of what are termed the do- the interval between the termination of that instispecu- mestic exchanges of the country, serving as the tution and the charter of its successor; and thirdly means of usurious profit, and constituting the during the limited period which has now so ab-The tion. This species of traffic, instead of being attempted, proved unsatisfactory on each succession to the context of the Government and the people.

of bills drawn by itself, or purchased from others; and in these operations it may, in a manner undoubtedly constitutional and legitimate, the depositories. In the first stages the measure was eminently successful, notwithfacilitate and assist exchanges of individuals, found on real transactions of trade. The extent to which this may be done, and the best means of effecting it, are entitled to the fullest. The selected banks performed with fidelity, agement of domestic or foreign exchange. It it in additional institutions, or of transferring it sion of specie payments, increasing the embarthe people; the investment of thirty-nine and a it; to prescribe the terms of indulgence, and to provide a venient to comply with the demands of the treasgeneral standard of value, or medium of ex. ury, and numerous and pressing applications were fairs of the country, would so far diminish the public revenue, that the accruing receipts into the treasury, would not, with the reserved five millions, be sufficient to defray the unavoidable expenses of the government, until the usual period for the government of the governme riod for the meeting of Congress; whilst the au- unproductive, and at prices now seen to have the enterprise and to promote the prosperity of transportation of their merchandise. These in which, at length, they, in common with the are operations of trade. They ought be con. the other banks, were fatally involved. the sums deposited with them, was too restricted to enable the department to realize a sufficient that the incidental difficulties are operations of trade. They ought be continued to their real variety of the expenditure of immense sums in improvements which in many cases have been of the revenue, National and the state of the r lons, of other pursues are encountered by other classianly connection between the government, and banks of issue, evils of great magnitude, inherent in its very nature. And against which, no precautions can effectually guard.

quired by law, led me in the outset to limit this industry, the resources, and the morals of our induspence to the first of September, but it has since been extended to the first of October, that the majority are deliberately fixed, and I cannot concur with those who think they see, in recent events, a proof that these sentiments are, or a subject in the hands of those to whom it protections and the morals of our interested; and lew can doubt that their own industry, the resources, and the morals of our interest, as well as the general welfare of the concur with those who think they see, in recent events, a proof that these sentiments are, or a subject in the hands of those to whom it protections and lew can doubt that their own industry, the resources, and the morals of our interest as well as the general welfare of the concur with those who think they see, in recent events, a proof that these sentiments are, or a subject in the hands of those to whom it protections.

powers for the relief of the country, I could not the chief instrumentality in producing the pres- charter, enabled it, in the existing emergency, gence, activity, and influence, are no doubt with propriety avoid subjecting you to the in- ent state of things, the developements subse- to check other institutions, or even to save it- sincere in their belief that the operations of convenience at as early a day as the state of quently made, and the actual condition of other self. In Great Britain, where, it has been seen, trade ought to be assisted by such a connection; feelings in believing that this inconvenience It has since appeared that evils similar to those ers far greater than are asked for by the warm- measure that does not tend, sooner or later, to throughout the commercial world; and that in sion of credit, and the evils that flow from it. lieved to be irreconcilably opposed to that During the early stages of the revulsion thro' other countries, as well as in our own, they Nor can I find, any tenable ground for the re- measure; they consider such a concentration which we have just passed, much acrimonious have been uniformly preceded by an undue en- establishment of a national bank, in the de- of power dangerous to their liberries; and existed, as to its real cause. This was not ed, as with us, by unprecedented expansions of domestic exchanges of the country, or in the Constitution. This collision of opinion has, surprising; the operations of credit are so di- the systems of credit. A reference to the a- facilities it may be capable of affording them. doubtless, caused much of the embarrassment so numerous, and often so suche, that of the officen so such that of the officen so su partial and well informed persons at the figure of the highest intound to agree in respect to them. To inhe- 1834, 5 and 6, will show an augmentation of accommodation; not one which the Federal terest, and trade has suffered in the conflict of found to agree in respect to them. To line the paper currency there, as much disproporrent difficulties we also added other tendencies the paper currency there, as much disproporrent difficulties we also added other tendencies the paper currency there, as much disproporrent was bound, or could be called upparties. A speedy termination of this state of the money of the people in the manner and for the things however desirable, is scarcely to be exhaust of the paper currency there, as much disproporrent was bound, or could be called upparties. A speedy termination of this state of the money of the paper currency there, as much disproporrent was bound, or could be called upparties.

We have seen for nearly half a century, that those who advocate a national bank, by whatever | befallen us in the midst of a war, and taken from of the government in relation to the constitute a por-would, in the excited state of public feeling tion, embracing the whole range of human en-would, in the excited state of public feeling tion, embracing the whole range of human en-tion of our community too numerous to allow us those very means which were treasured up to would, in the excited state of phone recently to produced by the occasion, fail to attribute to produced by the occasion, fail to attribute to the produced by the occasion of the produced by the occasion monetary affairs of the country. The matter foreign stocks and loans; credits for goods were stant desire, among some of our citizens, to an erroneous estimate of the intelligence and temthus became connected with the passions and conflicts of party; opinions were more or less control to subjects with which it should they have continued on slight and ineficient to the public service, out of the hands of its own to the public service, out of the hands of its own to the public service, out of the hands of its own to the public service, out of the hands of its own to the public service, out of the hands of its own to the public service, out of the hands of its own to the public service. grounds, their persevering opposition to such an institution; or that they can be induced by peaction against corporations entrusted with the cuniary pressure, or by any other combination of possession of them. Nor can such results be knowledge of them, conferred upon me the two mately arriving at correct conclusions: encouraged by the firm belief of this truth, I proceed to state my views, so far as may be necessary to a clear understanding of the remedies I feel to a clear understanding of the remedies I feel to the greatest difficulties, and their name of domestic exchanges, differ essentially in their nature, operation, and utility. One called upon for payments, which is the actual class of them consists of bills of exchange, drawn to a clear understanding of the remedies I feel to the greatest difficulties, and their name of domestic exchanges, differ essentially in their nature, operation, and utility. One class of them consists of bills of exchange, drawn to a clear understanding of the remedies I feel to co-operate in the on reasonable terms; and continued till forbid, it my duty to propose, and of the reasons by posture of things here, could only to made thro' for the purpose of transferring actual capital re-establishment of a national bank. To these which I have been induced to recommend a general pressure, and at the mel Tuinous sac- from one part of the country to another, or to sentiments I have now only to add the expression The history of trade in the United States for a last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years, affords the most sible for sincere inquirers afforts the last three or four years. ment of a national bank, in any form, whilst it promised by its advocates, would impair the rightful supremacy of the popular will; injure the character and diminish the influence of our political system; and bring once more into ex-> upheld, ought to be discountenanced by the which were adopted to facilitate or insure its success. On the last occasion, in the year 1833, the In transferring its funds from place to place, the Government is on the same footing with the private citizen, and may resort to the same legal means. It may do so through the medium diate consideration. This has been bestowed by the Secretary of the Treasury, and his views will be submitted to you in his report.

Rut it was not designed by the Constitution be submitted to you in his report.

But it was not designed by the Constitution that the Government should assume the manthat the government should assume the manis indeed authorized to regulate by law the to the States they found it in many cases, incon-

Throughout Europe, the domestic as well as Unforeseen in the organization of the governcy will occur, it anothonal means be not provided by Congress.

The difficulties experienced by the mercantile interest, in meeting their engagements, induced them to apply to me, previous to the actual duced them to actual duced them to apply to me, previous to the actual duced them to apply to me, previous to the actual duced them to apply to orations.

Again to create a national bank, as a fiscal gent, would be to disregard the popular will add in the same manner with court already and in the same manner with court already and in the same manner with court already to the new government, we assumed all the large but honorable load of debt which was the price of relief authorized by law who promptly and our results, the rapid growth among all classes, agent, would be to disregard the popular will, ed in the same manner, with equal cheapness our liberty; but we hesitated to weigh down the cheerfully granted. The dependence of the and especially in our great commercial towns, twice solemnly and unequivocally expressed. and safety. Certainly this might be accominfant industry of the country by resorting to treasury upon the avails of these bonds, to en- of luxurious habits, founded too often on mere- On no question of domestic policy is there plished, if it were favored by those most deeply adequate taxation for the necessary revenue. The able it to make the deposites with the states re- ly fancied wealth, and detrimental alike to the stronger evidence that the sentiments of a large interested; and few can doubt that their own facilities of banks, in return for the privileges they perly belongs. A system founded on private war, the connection was continued from motives of revulsion was present to the minds of con- Events, similar in their origin and charac- interest, enterprise, and competition, without of convenience; but these causes have long since recess, in respect to the October instalment of however, had correctly anticipated its severity. out producing any such change; and the les- law, would rapidly prosper; it would be free make banks necessary to aid the wants of the those deposites, requiring the interposition of A concurrence of circumstances inadequate of sons of experience must be forgotten, if we from the influence of political agitation, and Treasury; we have no load of national debt to themselves to produce such wide spread and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and provide for, and we have on actual deposite a large Congress.

A provision of another act passed about the same exemption to trade itself; and calamitous embarrassments tended so greatly same time, and intended to insure a faithful to aggravate them, that they cannot be overlapped and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extend the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extends the same exemption to trade itself; and suppose that the present overthrow of credit extends the same exemption to the constant of the constant extends the same exemption to the constant extends compliance with the obligation of the United looked in considering their history. Among sues has ever been the vice of the banking sys- are the unavoidable results of interference by our Government, the abundance of our resources States, to satisfy all demands upon them in spe- these may be mentioned, as most important, the tem; a vice as prominent in National as in the Government, in the proper concerns of in- the general harmony between the different states cie or its equivalent, prohibited the offer of any great loss of capital sustained by our commer- State institutions. This propensity is as sub- dividuals. All former attempts on the part of and with foreign powers, all enable us now to bank note not convertible on the spot into gold cial emporium in the fire of December 1835- servient to the advancement of private interests the Government to carry its legislation in this select the system most consistent with the conor silver, at the will of the holder; and the abili- a loss the effects of which were underrated at in the one as in the other; and those who di- respect, further than was designed by the Con- stitution, and most conducive to the public welfare. Should we then, connect the treasury for a fourth time with the local backs, it can be only under a conviction that past failures have arisen from accidental, and not inherent defects.

A danger, difficult if not impossible, to be Sensible that adequate provisions for these the deposit law of June, 1836; and the meas- credit. How strikingly is this conclusion sus- operations of public business; and there is no avoided in such an arrangement, is made strikreason to suppose that a repetition of them now | ingly evident in the very event by which it has now been defeated. A sudden act of the banks It cannot be concealed that there exists, in intrusted with the funds of the people, deprives or could not prevent former and similar embar- our community, opinions and feelings, on this the treasury without fault or agency of the and desirous also to can be you to exercise, at However unwilling any of our citizens may rassments; nor has the still greater strength subject in direct opposition to each other. A government, of the ability to pay its creditors the earliest moment, your full constitutional heretofore have been to assign to these causes it has been said to necessary in the currency they have by law a right to demand. This circumstance, no fluctuation of commerce could have produced, if the public revenue had been collected in the legal currency, and kept in that form by the officers of the treasthe popular representation would permit. I commercial countries, must, as it seems to me, the same causes have been attended with the they regard a national bank as necessary for ury. The citizen whose money was in bank arm sure that I have done but justice to your dispel all remaining doubts upon the subject.— same effects, a national bank, tossessing powin its amount; whilst he who kept it in the legal will be cheerfully encountered, in the hope of suffered by ourselves, have been experienced in est advocates of such an institution here, has the establishment of such an institution. On currency and in his own possession, pursues, without loss, the current of his business. The government placed in the situation of the former, is involved in embarrassments it could not have suffered had it pursued the course of the latter. These embarassments are, moreover, augmented which we have just passed, interior in the discussion arose, and great diversity of opinion largement of the boundaries of trade, promption and proper dangerous to their interiors; and These embarassments are, moreover, augmented discussion arose, and great diversity of opinion largement of the boundaries of trade, promption and proper dangerous to their interiors; and These embarassments are, moreover, augmented to the discussion arose, and great diversity of opinion largement of the boundaries of trade, promption and proper dangerous to their interiors; and the discussion arose, and great diversity of opinion largement of the boundaries of trade, promption and proper dangerous to their interiors. use a depreciated currency, and, by so doing, take from the Government the ability which individuals have of accommodating their transactions to such a catastrophe.

A system which can, in a time of profound peace, when there is a large revenue laid by, thus who can think without painful reflection, that under it, the same unforeseen events might have us, at the moment when most wanted, the use of danger will this government be always exposed the exercise of reason, or by mutual conces- quarter of the globe. The reaction was pro- community a more diligent inquiry into the so long and so inflexibly maintained. out investing the executive with a c atrol over